

DIRECTOR DENIES MELLEN'S TESTIMONY

STATEMENT THAT HE SHIELDED MOR- GAN IS FLATLY DENIED

Lewis Cass Ledyard, Former Director of New Haven, Declares Chas. Mellen Wrote Letter to U. S. District Attorney Claiming Innocence Rather Than Accepting Responsibility.

Washington, June 4.—Charles S. Mellen's recent testimony that he as president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad, allowed himself to be indicted in the Grand Trunk case to shield the late J. Pierpont Morgan, was flatly denied before the inter-state commerce commission today by Lewis Cass Ledyard of New York, who was a director of the New Haven at the time.

"I want to say in the most unqualified terms," declared Mr. Ledyard, "that Mr. Mellen did not offer himself as a vicarious sacrifice for Mr. Morgan."

Telling of the letter in regard to the Grand Trunk investigation to the United States district attorney at New York written by Mr. Mellen in the presence of E. D. Robbins, counsel for the New Haven and himself, Mr. Ledyard said:

"That letter was not the letter of a man accepting responsibility. It was the letter of a man claiming innocence."

Mr. Ledyard took the stand as a voluntary witness in the commission's investigation into the New Haven's financial affairs and was not sworn. The subpoena issued for him some time ago had been withdrawn but he urged that he be allowed to make a statement.

Earlier in the day William Skinner completed his testimony begun yesterday. He said he could not recall any instance in which Mr. Morgan had tried to dominate the board of directors.

Mr. Ledyard said that when he began to take an active part in the affairs of the New Haven about $13,000,000 already had been expended for the acquisition of the West Chester road.

He declared he knew nothing of any transactions with former Police Inspector Thomas F. Byrns of New York or of any negotiations with politicians.

Taking up Billard Company's matters Mr. Ledyard said:

"While I was in Europe in 1908, the Boston & Maine stock was sold to Mr. Billard and after my return I asked Mr. Mellen if the sale was outright or a dummy transaction. He told me the sale was made outright."

"I asked who Mr. Billard was and he replied: 'He is a wealthy Connecticut man.' I asked why the sale was made to Mr. Billard and Mr. Mellen replied that it was because Billard was a 'friend of the New Haven interests.'"

Mr. Ledyard said several important things happened while he was in Europe that year.

"By the time I returned home Mr. Billard had sold back to the Navigation company the Boston and Maine stock," he said. "I went to a meeting of the executive committee of the New Haven board on October 2. I was outspoken in expressing my opinion regarding the Billard transaction and the big profit that had gone to Mr. Billard. Mr. Morgan was present and he also was angry about the matter."

The hearing will continue tomorrow.

"J. C. R." Identified as Earl W. Iles, Mining Engineer, Who Has Been Missing Since 1906.

Chicago, June 4.—The man of mystery who has been known only as "J. C. R." by the officials of the Oak Park Infirmary and by hospital attaches at Rochester, Minn., today was identified as Earl W. Iles, a mining engineer who has been missing since 1906. The identification was made by Iles' mother, Mrs. H. E. ## MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK TELLS OF HER DOMESTIC WOES

Noted Singer Asserts Her Husband, William Rapp, Jr., Has Been Friendly With New York Woman.—Sue's For Divorce.

Chicago, June 4.—With tears in her eyes, Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink unfolded the story of her domestic woes before a jury today in her suit for divorce from William Rapp, Jr., of New York. Mr. Rapp, she said, had been very friendly with "a blonde lady in New York" whom she subsequently named as Mrs. Catherine Dean.

Two depositions were read, one from Mrs. Julia Williams, a maid formerly employed by Mrs. Dean, and one from a New York detective, who told of numerous visits to a Fifth avenue restaurant by Mrs. Dean and Rapp. According to his deposition the detective followed Rapp many nights from his office in West Thirty-first street to various places where he met Mrs. Dean.

The deposition of Mrs. Williams was to the effect that Rapp had lived at the apartment of Mrs. Dean for several months in 1913.

The singer denies that she had any love for Edward McNamara, a one-time policeman, who visited her in New Jersey. She declared he came for music lessons, not for love making.

The singer told of a consultation with Rapp at her Chicago home last July. She testified that her husband said at that time that he wanted a divorce.

"I didn't want a divorce I told him," she said. "I am happy as I am with my children and my art. I told him I would never think of marrying again. Always I said I never wanted a divorce."

Mr. Morton charged the reporter with trespass.

MONUMENT UNVEILED TO CONFEDERATE DEAD

TERRIFIC THUNDERSTORM CUTS SHORT CEREMONIES AT CEMETERY

Mrs. S. M. Stevens Presents Monument to the President on Behalf of Women of the Confederacy.—Storm Interrupts President Wilson's Address.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—A terrific thunderstorm broke over Arlington National cemetery late today while President Wilson was addressing a great crowd gathered for the unveiling of the monument to the confederate dead. Torrents of wind-driven rain drenched the blue and grey veterans, women and children before they could seek shelter. The president who had cut short his speech as the rising wind and dark skies announced the storm's coming, hurried to his car with his two daughters, Mrs. McAdoo and Mrs. Sayre.

They were inside before the rain came but the machine's top afforded poor protection and the party was thoroughly drenched on the seven mile drive back to Washington.

Mrs. Daisy McLauren Stevens, president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, made the address presenting the monument to the president on behalf of the women of the confederacy. Tumultuous applause greeted her when she said:

"Yours, Mr. President, was Jefferson's spirit when at Mobile you said the United States had no interest in Mexico or any other foreign lands, except to see that the citizens enjoyed the right to the pursuit of happiness under a constitutional and just government."

General Washington Gardner, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and General Bennett Young, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, were notable figures among the speakers, all of whom commented on the appropriateness of delivering the memorial to the government through a Southern-born president. The president said:

"I assure you that I am profoundly aware of the solemn significance of the thing that has now taken place. The daughters of the confederacy have presented a memorial of their dead to the government of the United States."

"I am not so much happy as proud to participate in this capacity on such an occasion; proud that I should represent such a people. Am I mistaken, ladies, and gentlemen, in supposing that nothing of this sort could have occurred in anything but a Democracy? The people of a Democracy are not related to their rulers as subjects are related to a government. They are themselves the sovereign authority and as they are neighbors of each other, quickened by the same passions and moved by the same motives they can understand each other. They are shot through with some of the deepest and profoundest instincts of human sympathy. They choose their governments. They consult their rulers. They live their own life and they will not have that life disturbed and discolored by fraternal misunderstandings."

"This chapter in the history of the United States is now closed and I can bid you turn with me your faces to the future, quickened by the memories of the past, but with nothing to do with the contests of the past, knowing as we have shed our blood upon opposite sides, we now face and admire one another. The generosity of our judgment struggled up soon after this great struggle was over, when men are shot together again in congress and under lead the efforts of peace and of government; and our solemn duty is to see that each one of us in his own consciousness and in his own conduct a replica of this great reunited people."

"It is our duty and our privilege to be like the country we represent and speaking no word of malice, no word of criticism even, standing shoulder to shoulder to lift the burdens of mankind in the future and show the paths of freedom to all the world."

SUFFRAGETTE GAINS ACCESS TO KING'S COURT

MILITANT GETS PAST GUARDS AT PALACE DESPITE ALL PRECAUTIONS

Incident at Buckingham Palace is Calculated to Produce Greater Feeling of Exasperation in Public Mind and Renewed Demands for Suffragette Agitation.

London, June 4.—The King and Queen held court at Buckingham palace tonight and in spite of all precautions, a militant suffragette gained access to their presence and caused interruption to the presentations. As she was passing the king, the suffragette dropped on her knees and shouted:

"Your majesty for God's sake do not use force!"

The woman was attired in court dress and her action caused profound astonishment. She continued to admonish the king but her words were inaudible as her voice was drowned by the playing of the band in the gallery. She was removed and handed over to the police.

The scene which gave a shock to those in the immediate vicinity of the royal circle was very brief and the assemblage generally had scarcely any knowledge of what was happening.

Whether the woman was one of the invited who sympathized with the suffragette movement or an intruder who gained admission by forged card is still unknown. It is difficult, however, to imagine how any person could have gained access to the court on a forged invitation as the police had knowledge of a conspiracy to approach the royal presence and every guest and every carriage arriving at Buckingham palace tonight had been subjected to close inspection by detectives—a unique precaution and one that caused considerable delay and not a little indignation in court circles.

Tonight's incident is calculated to produce a feeling of still greater exasperation in the public mind and renewed demands for strong measures to suppress the suffragette agitation.

Cheering all reference to violence and greeting the mention of the government and police with cries of "animals," "serve the brutes right" and "let the editors beware," a meeting of the Women's Political Union worked itself into a state of hysterical excitement tonight.

Mrs. Manzell presided and threatened the London editors with the fate of the two Belfast editors who were assaulted in their offices by militants yesterday. Next week the union will observe as a self denial week. The names of donors of money and jewelry will not be disclosed as a precaution against any attempt of the part of the government to seize the offerings and prosecute the givers.

"General" Flora Drummond was re-arrested tonight in Grosvenor Place just outside Buckingham Palace under the "cat and mouse" act. The vicar of the Wargrave church, recently burned, today received an anonymous suffragette threat that St. Mary's church at Reading would be the next building dealt with.

EMPRESS OF IRELAND WIRELESS OPERATORS TELL OF S.O.S. CALLS

Ronald Ferguson Declares He Only Had Eight Minutes in Which to Call for Help Before the Dynamos Failed.

Quebec, June 4.—Roland Ferguson, the wireless operator on the Empress of Ireland, today told for the first time of the "S. O. S." call that brought assistance to the handful of survivors after the liner had been rammed and sunk in the St. Lawrence river last Friday morning causing the loss of more than one thousand lives. Ferguson declared that he had only eight minutes in which to call for assistance before the dynamos failed. Directly after the collision he said he ran to the wireless room from his cabin to which he had retired for the night. He sent out a message to Father Point telling the operator there to "stand by, as the Empress had struck something."

A second later, "First Officer Steade ran into the room and told him to despatch the 'S. O. S.' call. Father Point answered that help was coming and immediately the wireless operators stopped."

Ferguson went down with the ship but came up and after swimming for three quarters of an hour, was picked up. ### HORSE SHOW WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

SHARP COMPETITION IN EVENTS AT LITERBERRY.

Program Was Carried Out Under Capable Hands and Up to Standard of Former Years.—Christian Church Ladies Feed Eight Hundred People.

Hundreds were in attendance at the annual horse show given at Literberry Thursday, the occasion also being the annual chicken supper by the ladies of the Christian church. For a great many years the show has been an event looked forward to with no little interest by the people of that vicinity and surrounding community. Each year the competition gets a little keener and it is a well known and proved fact that it is as hard to win a ribbon at the Literberry show as it is at different county fairs. The horses exhibited this year were certainly of a high class and the judges called for extra drives in order to determine to their complete satisfaction the winner.

The program started at 1 p. m. and was concluded by five o'clock. The day was the hottest thus far this season, but despite this fact the large number of spectators never lagged in their interest of the various contests, some standing in the hot sun until the last event was completed. The show was in the hands of the president, J. S. Hitchens, the treasurer, W. E. Murray, and secretary, M. M. Crum. During the entire afternoon music was furnished by the Merritt band. This organization has been gaining steadily in the estimation of the people and yesterday under the baton of G. M. Graham some splendid music was given. The band has several engagements ahead for the coming months.

Annual Chicken Supper.
The ladies of the Christian church held their twenty-first annual chicken supper commencing at four o'clock in the basement of the church. Ample preparations had been made for the accommodation of the big crowd and it was late in the evening before the people were asking for tickets. The men were as fairly all that could be desired as the culinary ability of the ladies of that church is well known. The menu consisted of chicken with dressing and gravy, buns, butter, mashed potatoes, bean salad, fruit salad, pickles, cottage cheese, jelly, wafers, preserved, coffee, ice tea, ice cream and cake. To avoid the crowding and to give everyone a chance the tickets were numbered and when the numbers were called they entered the dining room. Many compliments were passed upon the good things to eat by the guests.

The ladies organization has for its officers the following:
President—Mrs. J. S. Hitchens.
Vice President—Mrs. C. P. Henderson.
Treasurer—Mrs. J. W. Martin.
Secretary—Mrs. Albert Crum.

Mrs. J. S. Hitchens was chairman of all committees and those in charge of the various departments follow:

Committee on potatoes—Mrs. Robert McFarland and Mrs. Richard Greenwood.

Committee on dressing—Mrs. A. W. Petefish.
Committee on gravy—Mrs. L. H. Maul.

TAZEWELL COUNTY FARM ADVISER TELLS HOW TO FIGHT WORMS

How Furrow Around Fields and Then Crush Worms With a Log His Suggestion.

E. T. Robbins agricultural adviser of Tazewell county, has written the following about the army worm situation.

"There is an outbreak of army worms in the vicinity of Parkland in the southwestern part of Tazewell county. There may be other outbreaks which have not been brought to my attention. I have noticed some army worms in some other parts of the county, but not in sufficient numbers to cause much injury. They are found mainly at first in timothy and wheat. If they are so numerous as to eat all the vegetation in the field where they originated, they migrate to fresh feeding ground. At Parkland they had begun to migrate from a timothy meadow to adjoining wheat and corn.

"It is impracticable to use spraying materials in fighting the army worms because of the large area that would necessarily need to be sprayed in order to kill them. The most economical and successful method of fighting them when they begin to migrate is to plow a deep furrow along side of the field with the perpendicular side of the furrow next to the field to be protected. Then drag a short piece of log back and forth through this furrow at frequent intervals. With a horse hitched to this log and a boy to ride it this work can be easily and cheaply done. The worms congregate in the bottom of the furrow as they attempt to migrate from the field where they hatched and they are crushed by the log as it passes along.

"Every season there are some army worms to be found but ordinarily they are kept in check by their natural enemies. A large proportion of the worms noticed at Parkland had eggs of their parasites upon them. These parasites hatch and live inside the worms and ultimately kill them. These worms mature in about three weeks and transform later into a moth which lays the eggs for the hatching of other worms. After the middle of this month there is not likely to be any injury noticed this season. The devastation from army worms is usually worse the next season after a long drouth or in the early summer following a wet spring. It would be well for farmers to look over their fields for army worms, curled up on the ground, but the injury that they have done to the leaves of wheat or grass may be easily noticed. If there are great numbers of these and their feed is about exhausted, one should be ready to fight them if they should try to move to fresh feeding ground."

E. T. Robbins, Tazewell County Agricultural Adviser.

Special convocation of Jacksonville Chapter No. 3 R. A. M. this evening at 7.30. Work in R. A. degree. Refreshments.

LIGHT COMPANY OBJECTS TO PAYMENT OF COUNTY TAXES

Maintain That $965.84 Are Unlawfully Assessed Against Their Capital Stock—Company Being Organized in Maine.

The Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., by its attorneys Bellatti, Bellatti & Moriarty has filed in the county court objections to the payment of taxes amounting to $965.84 or more properly speaking objections to the entering of a judgment against the property of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Company for alleged delinquent taxes extended on the tax books against the property of the company.

The objector shows that it has paid all the taxes against the property excepting the sum of $965.84 which is assessed against the capital stock of the company, and for the reason that the said company is a corporation existing under the laws of the state of Maine and that as such its capital stock can not properly be assessed in this state. The company sets forth that it has been taxed under the provision of the act of the general assembly approved March 30, 1872, and that under section one of this act and amendments thereto, only the capital stock of companies and associations incorporated under the laws of the state are properly subject to assessment and taxation by this state. Further objection is made against any judgment for interest or costs claimed by the collector of taxes. As it is maintained that the costs claimed were made unlawfully and that the objector is not liable for the payment thereof.

TEACHERS NAMED FOR CITY SCHOOLS

AGREEMENT REACHED BY EDUCATION BOARD THURSDAY NIGHT

Action Taken After Long Conference—Mr. Gore and Mr. Collins Criticized and Re-appointed—Few Changes in Teaching Force.

The Board of Education at a special meeting Thursday night made the appointments of superintendent, principals, teachers and janitors for the city schools. This action was taken after various other matters had been discussed and subsequent to a long and somewhat heated conference held in the office of Mayor Davis. The session was not concluded until 11:45 o'clock.

W. A. Gore was re-appointed superintendent and C. E. Collins principal. There were very few changes in the teaching force. Miss Anna English takes the place in the high school faculty made vacant by the resignation of Miss Lyman, and Miss Bea Ellis succeeds Miss Emma Thornborrow, who resigned. Miss Jeanette Taylor is added to the high school faculty; Miss Laura Hammond succeeds Miss English in the eighth grade, and Miss Ruth Miller takes the place in the second ward occasioned by the resignation of Mrs. Agnes Wakely Myers. Mrs. Ida Smith is appointed general teacher and Miss Marian Carter, a substitute teacher to succeed Miss Miller. All janitors are re-elected except in the case of R. Day, at the first ward branch, who is succeeded by Henry Richards.

The first business of the session related to the selection of bar locks for the eighth grade building. W. J. Brady was present with some samples and explained about the goods and prices to the board. The matter was referred to Member Wells and Architect Buckingham for a report.

Then the board was ready to take up the question of appointments and Mr. Wells made a motion that the question of selecting a superintendent be deferred until other appointments had been made. Mr. Bavington suggested that the superintendent was one to be first selected, that he might confer with the board about teachers. Mayor Davis who evidently thought there was little prospect of getting together in open meeting suggested a conference but the members were not ready at this time.

Criticize Mr. Gore and Mr. Collins.

Mr. Hall said the superintendent should be appointed first and Mr. Wells said that as a matter of fact the rules required that the Superintendent be named a month prior to other appointments. Then followed a discussion of the qualifications of Mr. Gore for the position of superintendent. Mr. Hall and Mr. Wells making it clear that they did not think his record was such as to justify reappointment. Mr. Bavington said that many people found fault with Mr. Collins' work at the high school and that he knew Mr. Collins believed he was opposed to him but that such was not the case. The whole discussion indicated that during the past year there had been some differences between Supt. Gore and Principal Collins and that they had not worked together as should be the case. This discussion of the qualifications of the superintendent and the principal and their relative merits and demerits lasted for more than an hour when the members finally decided to follow the mayor's suggestion and hold a conference in his office. Then Mr. Gore and Mr. Collins were sent for and were called into the conference.

As a result of the whole matter the board subsequently returned to the council chamber and re-elected both Mr. Gore and Mr. Collins and appointed all teachers. It may be presumed that Mr. Gore and Mr. Collins satisfied the board as to the basis of whatever troubles there may have been in the past and indicated that they could work without friction in the future.

Organization of First Baptist Church Holds Interesting Session Thursday.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Baptist church met with Mrs. F. M. Springer, Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. P. Brown on North Prairie street. Rev. Mr. Stephens, the new pastor, was present and led the devotional part of the meeting, taking for his subject: "Jesus in the Midst." He read several passages of scripture and made Rev. Mr. Stephens pointed his talk following with an earnest prayer. Rev. Mr. Stephens pointed his talk with the following forceful poem:

The parish priest of austerity
Climbed up the high steeple
To be nearer God so that he might Hand down his word to the people.

And in sermons strict he daily wrote
What he thought was sent from Heaven; And dropped it down on the peoples' heads
Two times one day in seven.

At length God said, "Come Down and Die!"
And he cried out from the steeple
"Where Art Thou Lord?" and the Lord replied,
"Down here among my people."

After routine business had been transacted, a program was given under the leadership of Mrs. A. E. Goltra, the subject being "Colportage."

For pleasing recreation and pure novelty there have been few attractions at the Grand equal to the Four Musical Hodges, who have won fame with Eva Tanguay a few years ago are still upon the boards as popular and mirth provoking as ever. The Four Musical Hodges are "much in little", they are equal to an entire orchestra. With instruments harmonized perfectly they make music rhythmic, merry, tranquil, gay—with none of the confusion of a large stinged orchestra or the blare of a band. With cornet, saxophone, trombone of xylophone, they make music that is pure and almost perfect.

The whole program is full of surprises. The audience at the Grand Thursday evening was particularly pleased with the act which is a strictly high class, high priced feature. Manager Johnson is proud of it.

CONFEDERATE MEMORIAL UNVEILED WITH IMPRESSIVE CEREMONY

Veterans of North and South Participated in Exercises—Is a Conspicuous Monument in Famous Cemetery.

Washington, June 2.—Standing where he could overlook the graves of 20,000 of the country's dead, where the wearers of the blue and the wearers of the gray sleep side by side, President Wilson today accepted on behalf of the people of the United States the handsome monument erected in the Arlington cemetery to the confederate soldiers who are buried there.

The unveiling of the memorial was made the occasion for an impressive demonstration in which veterans of the south and veterans of the north participated alike with an energy and enthusiasm which defied the life-sapping years that have gone since they bore arms on opposing sides in the greatest conflict in American history.

The ceremonies were simple but impressive in the extreme. Col. Hilary A. Herbert, former secretary of the navy and chairman of the commission in charge of the erection of the memorial, presided over the exercises. In a short address Col. Herbert formally delivered the monument to Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, representing the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Mrs. Stevens in turn presented the memorial to President Wilson, as the representative of the nation.

In addition to President Wilson, the speakers and other leading participants in the ceremonies included Gen. Bennett H. Young of Kentucky, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans, and Col. Washington Gardner of Michigan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Added to the delegations of confederate veterans who came from nearly every state of the south were many union veterans from the District of Columbia, from Maryland, Pennsylvania and the neighboring states. Foreign diplomats, members of the cabinet, representatives of patriotic societies and several hundred senators and representatives occupied seats on the stands erected about the memorial.

The drawing aside of the veil which draped the principal figure of the monument was the signal for an outburst of cheering, which was swollen to thunderous applause by the sons and daughters of the veterans. Tears dimmed the eyes and coursed down the cheeks of the old soldiers and their emotion choked voices would have been but a feeble effort had it not been for the assistance given by the younger generation.

Touching sentiment was heard on every side and the thanks of the north and south alike were offered by the orators of the occasion to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, whose work it was that made the memorial project an accomplished fact.

The monument erected in honor of the memory of the confederate dead is one of the most interesting, dignified and conspicuous memorials in the famous cemetery, where stand scores of simple shafts and towering monuments put up in honor of the soldier dead, where revolutionary veterans lie under the same trees that shelter other descendants killed in the Philippine islands, where sailors who served on the Constitution sleep side by side with the victims of the Maine, and where such famous wearers of the gray as Gen. Joseph Wheeler lie buried within sight of the last resting places of such equally famous wearers of the blue as Sheridan, Crook and Schofield.

The confederate memorial was erected at a cost of $50,000, the greater part of which was raised through the efforts of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. It was designed by the American sculptor, Sir Moses Ezekiel, himself a southerner who served in the confederate army and in later years the designer of monument to the famous leaders of the "Lost Cause" that adorn public grounds and buildings in Richmond, Louisville and a number of other cities of the south. The sculptor, who has long resided in Italy, came over especially to attend the unveiling of the Arlington memorial and was an honored guest at today's ceremonies.

The monument, which is entirely of bronze, has 32 life sized figures in full relief around a cylindrical base, on which stands the chief figure, a heroic sized woman, right hand extended, holding a laurel wreath, with the left resting upon a plectrum, on which is a sickle, and underneath a quotations from Isaiah: "They have beaten their swords into plowshares and their spears into pruning hooks."

The base of the monument is of bronze, with patins on the sides, which gives bolder relief to the life-sized statues. In addition to the statues there are bronze shields representing the states of the confederacy and several bronze tablets bearing suitable inscriptions.

MANY WITNESSES TESTIFY IN NUNES MURDER CASE

EVIDENCE DOES NOT CLEARLY OUTLINE CIRCUMSTANCES OF SHOOTING.

Motion of Defense That Court Direct a Verdict Clearing All Defendants Is Overruled—Jacob De Ornellas First Witness for Defense and Testifies That Elder Nunes Was Armed and Looking For Son When Shot.

After the hearing of testimony from a number of additional witnesses in the trial of Frank Nunes, Mrs. Mary Nunes and Jacob De Ornellas charged with the killing of Antonio Nunes Thursday the state rested its case and the defense began. After a statement had been made by John M. Butler the first witness for the defense, Jacob De Ornellas took the stand. He had not finished when court adjourned until this morning.

Samuel Nunes Again a Witness.

The first witness on the stand on Thursday morning was Samuel Nunes who had also been examined at the session Wednesday afternoon. He is a brother of Antonio Nunes and testified concerning several conversations he had with the deceased on different days after the shooting. He said that the deceased was not armed with a shotgun on the night of the shooting and that when he arrived at the house that night all the curtains were down except at one window and that a blanket was tacked over that. He testified further that the deceased grew steadily worse from the time he was taken to the hospital until his decease.

The next witness was W. F. Todd, former deputy sheriff, who told of serving writs and Frank Nunes and Mrs. Mary Nunes after the shooting, and he also told of a conversation he had with Frank Nunes. The witness identified two guns which were introduced in evidence, one of them a double barreled shot gun with which Frank Nunes did the shooting, and the other a single barreled shot gun with which it was alleged that Antonio Nunes was armed.

Mr. Todd also related a conversation with defendant, Frank Nunes, in which the latter had stated that he shot his father, but also stated that he did so because his father was armed and he thought he was about to shoot. There was an effort on the part of the state to show that Jacob De Ornellas had advised Frank Nunes to shoot his father but after some argument by attorneys this line of inquiry was ruled from the records.

Vm. Murgatroyd whose home is a few miles north of the city and near the Nunes home, testified that the defendant, Frank Nunes, was 20 years of age last March. Nothing further developed from his testimony.

Identifies Gun.

The next witness was Carl Sieber, a son-in-law of Antonio Nunes. He testified that he is a gunsmith and that he had been engaged in that work for about 25 years. He identified the single barreled shot gun as being one that he had seen in a trunk at the Nunes house the night before the shooting. He said he had opened the trunk to get at a jug of whiskey which was kept therein. He said the gun was a part and that a pin was lacking and that the gun was not in condition to shoot. The witness told of several conversations with Mrs. Nunes in one of which she accused him of putting devilment into Tony's head and said that unless Tony changed his way of doing that something was going to happen. In cross-examination Mr. Butler asked the witness if the pin which belonged to the gun was not with the other parts the night he saw it in the trunk? The attorney then produced an iron pin and showed how readily it could be inserted and the gun put into shooting condition.

Hauled Nunes to Hospital.

The next witness was Earl Cox, who was called to the Nunes house the night of the shooting by Claud Servoss. He described the arrangement of the house and told of seeing blood on the floor. He said that Jacob De Ornellas was there at the time and was lying on a cot. When he arrived Antonio Nunes' wound on the back or side of the neck had been dressed. He told of bringing Mr. Nunes to the hospital here in a spring wagon and said the pillow was saturated with blood.

Nunes Gives Testimony.

Miss Mary Welch, a nurse who had charge of deceased at night for two weeks and three days after he was taken to the hospital, testified as to the appearance and area of the wound. She testified that the defendant's condition grew worse each day, or rather that he seemed weaker each day. She said that on some days his temperature was not as high as on others and that he was able to sit on the edge of the bed at times.

Report of Autopsy.

Dr. T. O. Hardesty was the last witness of the morning session and gave some facts relating to the autopsy which was held on the body of Antonio Nunes on March 6th. This autopsy was conducted by Dr. Hardesty and Dr. Wolman. The witness told in detail about the condition of the body and testified particularly about the congested condition of the lungs. He said in this case that both lungs were affected and that in his opinion that death was due to double pneumonia. In further examination however he made it clear that while death was due to pneumonia that the inflammation resulting from the wound might properly be considered as having some relation to the disease which resulted in death.

The jury was recalled at 1:40 o'clock and Dr. Hardesty summoned to the stand. The witness stated that the direct cause of death of Antonio Nunes was pneumonia. The indirect cause was his confinement in horizontal position in bed. The witness described the wound on the neck of Antonio Nunes and said that from examination he could tell it was of recent occurrence. Such a wound made confinement necessary. The stasis in the middle lobe of the right lung would have superinduced pneumonia, from which he died. The witness could not state all of the causes which brought about Nunes' death.

Dr. Duncan's Testimony.

Dr. W. P. Duncan was then called to the stand and after stating that he is a physician and surgeon in Jacksonville, said that he knew Antonio Nunes. He was called to the Passavant hospital to treat Nunes' wound. He described the wound and said that the infection had set in immediately. That between the 11th and 20th of February that blood poison had set in and the patient's condition was very weak. He stated, however, that the wound was healing satisfactorily; that Nunes died on March 5th at Passavant hospital and had been in bed most of the time that he was at Passavant hospital.

Attorney Hairgrove for the defense then cross examined the witness, who stated that Nunes' state of inactivity at the hospital caused the germs and bacteria in his system to become active. The witness treated Nunes in conjunction, with Dr. Jas. U. Day, who was first called.

On re-questioning by the prosecution the witness said that Nunes had caught cold while at the hospital by kicking the covers off and thrashing around in bed.

Mr. Hairgrove then asked if there was any direct relation between the gunshot wound and pneumonia. The witness replied that he did not think there was any relation, but that there was an indirect relation due to the severe infection, which affected his strength so much that he was unable to withstand pneumonia. He declined to say that the wound was a mortal one and added that everything pointed that he would recover; that he was convalescent from the gunshot wound and had passed through worst part of it.

At this time Mr. Smith for the state asked the witness if Mr. Nunes was not a large, robust man. Dr. Duncan replied that he was but that he had suffered from shock and from the wound and had nurses to look after him night and day at the hospital. The people then rested.

A motion was then entered by the defense to have the court instruct the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty in case of all defendants. This motion was overruled and witnesses for the defense called. Attorney Butler then outlined the case for the defense. He stated that the law of self defense was the highest law in the land; that the relation between the defendant Frank and the deceased should be overlooked by the jury because the law grants that a son has as much right to defend himself from bodily harm from his father, as he would to defend himself against a stranger.

Jacob DeOrnellas' Story.

Jacob DeOrnellas was called to the witness stand after all the defendants had been sworn by the clerk. Mr. Ornellas stated that he resides about 4 miles northeast of Jacksonville, is 60 years of age and a brother of Mary Nunes. The home of Antonio Nunes was three miles northwest of the Ornellas home. He was called on the telephone between 8:30 and 9 o'clock of the day of the shooting, by his sister, Mary Nunes, who asked him to come over to her house. He went over about 10 o'clock, met Tony on the road about a mile from his home. Tony was in a one horse buggy, while the witness was a foot. They stopped and talked a few minutes, then both went up to the home of Tony Nunes. The witness stated that Nunes was then in a drunken condition, that he had whiskey with him in the buggy, had it in a beer bottle with a corn cob stopper; that Nunes insisted on him taking a drink and that he did take one small drink. When they got to the house Nunes jumped on Charlie about some hay and called Charlie a liar and knocked him down. The boys then all jumped upon their father, but the witness told the boys to get off of him and leave him alone.

Tells of Drinking.

"After this there was some telephoning to Charles Black's as to the weight of the hay, but Black didn't have the weights. There was other talking back and forth. Tony would take a drink about every five minutes. They quit talking about the hay. This was about 12 or 1 o'clock. Mrs. Nunes asked her husband to have dinner, but he said, 'to hell with dinner.' They did not eat dinner at that time, did not see any of them have anything to eat. Mr. Ornellas said that he was sick that day, that Dr. J. U. Day was there during the afternoon to see Norman Nunes, who had pneumonia and that he told Dr. Day as to how he was feeling and that the doctor had given him some medicine.

"Charles Nunes left sometime in the afternoon. Tony went away about dark. Tony came back about 10 o'clock. Ornellas was laying on the bed in the sitting room. His sister Mary, was in the room part of the time. Nunes came in from the north door, which leads in from the porch. He went to the trunk and got a drink, then went to the stove to warm himself and was there three or four minutes. He had on no gloves, but wore an overcoat. He removed his overcoat and asked where Charlie was. His wife replied that Charlie wasn't there and Nunes replied he knew he was around there somewhere; that he had been to his house and made the remark, 'I am going to get him before it is over with.' The witness further stated that Tony then started to get his gun, when Mrs. Nunes called for help. Ornellas got up from the

Father After Son With Gun.

"Young Tony Nunes asked his father to go to bed, at which the elder Nunes started after young Tony with the gun in his hand, had taken a few steps toward him when the shot was fired. The witness had his hand on the elder Nunes' right shoulder when the shot was fired. At this time Mrs. Nunes was lying on the floor, having been knocked down by her husband. The witness didn't remember just where Frank was at this time; that Tony had said that he wasn't going to bed anymore, that there was going to be a killing done there and right away; that he asked why the curtains were pulled down; that he also said Sheriff Rogers is coming out, let the — show his head and I'll get him. Dr. Day was then telephoned for. The witness stated that the explosion from the gun was so strong that it knocked him about 8 feet and he fell down. He couldn't see who fired the shot but it came from the stairway in the southwest corner of the room. He said he and his sister Mary did telephoning for the doctor. He had no talk with Tony after the shooting."

Explains Presence at Nunes Home.

Attorney Priest for the state then cross examined the witness, who stated that he owns and farms 240 acres near the Nunes home; that he had stock to care for but that his sister, the morning of the day in which the shooting was done, had called him to come over to the house, that he got there about noon; that he laid on the bed all afternoon; that the doctor had told him to go to bed; that he was sick before he left home; didn't know just what called him. When asked who lowered the curtains in the sitting room of the Nunes home he said that he lowered the blinds himself on the two windows facing north, which were the only outside windows in the room. The reason he did not return to his own home in the evening to care for his stock was because his sister begged him to stay because of Tony's condition.

The court then adjourned until 8:30 this morning, with Mr. Ornellas still on the stand.

We Keep Your Suit New!

The man who does not have his clothes dry cleaned and pressed frequently,—does not get the full wear out of them.

Long before the clothes are worn out the lapels droop over, the coat front breaks, the sleeves wrinkle and pull out at the elbow, the trousers become baggy and lose their shape at the bottom, and the entire suit looks old and disreputable.

Our service keeps them clean and fresh, keeps them shaped right and fitting perfectly until they wear out. It's not only an aid to good dressing—but a real economy, as well.

Take advantage of it frequently.

Only Two Cleveland Players Reach

Hit.

Chicago, June 4.—Scott allowed only two Cleveland players to reach first base today. One got a hit and the other drew a pass. Both were thrown out stealing.

Jackson was the only man who spoiled Scott's chances of a no-hit game. He opened the second in-

DISCUSS LABOR LEGISLATION.

Nashville, Tenn., June 4.—Local arrangements were concluded today for the joint annual convention to be held here next week by the National Association of Labor Commissioners and International Association of Factory Inspectors. The gathering will be attended by public officials, economists, heads of labor organizations and others from many parts of the United States and Canada. The convention will assemble Monday and continue in session until Friday. Uniform laws to govern workshops, factory inspection, the operation of the compensation and liability laws, and other legislation relating to labor conditions will be discussed by the convention.

SOME OFF-SIDE CHUTES.

Fighting big leaguers for the present at least will cease their bluffing and settle down for a fulfillment of the present contracts with organized baseball. Judge Foell's finding in the Big Chief Johnson case was a solar-plexus the Federals were not prepared for. The Indian will play with Cincinnati if he plays anywhere, unless Garry Herrmann concludes to use him to put through a trade. The present national agreement contract is an ironclad one from a legal standpoint and its tenants must be obeyed, is the ruling of the Chicago superior court jurist. The chip carried upon the shoulders of certain players in both the American and National leagues has been knocked sky-high, and all the bluster about this star and that freak will now cease, the teams harboring them may be able to get at least part of their money's worth out of them, and the lay-down in games will be stopped suddenly when the managers apply the indefinite suspension without pay.
A contract jumper and a lay-down bluffer in baseball, as in any other field of endeavor, is the most desicpable snake the human family some times is bumped into. A conspirator and an informer at all times are held in awe by a self respecting public, and this Foell verdict will compel a respect for that which is just. The Federals will go along from now on until the close of this season upon the merits of the various teams, and if those merits are worthy of public patronage they will reap their share of it. An appeal has been threatened, but the outlook is not encouraging for the outlaws. In two court battles thus far—one in a United States court—the new league has been worsted, and in the opinion of the best legal talent of the country they will continue to be worsted during the life of all existing contracts.

The unlooked-for happened in the Cub-Pirate game in Chicago Wednesday. Marty O'Toole was sent in as a rescuer for the last three innings and not a hit did he allow, nor was there a run scored off him, although he issued three passes. The millionaire beauty is improving—maybe!

Marsans, with the Cincinnati team, is one of those players who has been in the dumps with Manager Herzog.
He has upon several occasions threatened to jump to St. Louis at Kansas City, and upon each of the occasions he has been mulcted $100. Before he became acquainted with the ruling in the Johnson case Wednesday, he had another one of his fits, when he demanded a new contract, and an increase in pay. Herzog "put him on the ground" without any indefinitely, and when the club left for Boston the Cuban was left behind.
He will again sue for a truce with Garry Herrmann. At the clip young Usher is going, Herzog will not miss the bronzed tamale.

It was the regular story with De-marie in the box for the Giants Wednesday. Three innings only were required by Dootin's cripples to knock the cartoonist off the mound; also after Al. was chased Philadelphia continued to make merry at the expense of Schauer and Schupp, while Quaker Grover C. Alexander breezed all the way to win 10 to 3.

Speaking about close-fits in the runs for the two big league buntings, pipe the race in the American association. Five teams are in a cluster for the lead, with the sixth and the seventh within striking distance. Indianapolis is the surprise of this league, and Jimmy Sheek-ard's Cleveland team is encouraging Owner Somers for the losses sustained by his American league outfit.

A recent issue of the Sydney, N. S.
W. Referee under a seven-column caption proclaims "Fred Archer the Greatest Jockey of All Time." In the context, however, Hugh McIntosh's turf editor qualifies the caption by writing "Fred Archer was the greatest horseman in the history of the country"—meaning England.
The qualification in part is nearly correct. The antipodian writer entirely overlooks Danny Maher and Tod Sloan in the history of winners on the English turf. The caption is entirely wrong font with the Archer history. The Book of Books, on Who is Who in the Pigskin, places the late Tommy Burns upon a pedestal all by himself as the greatest jockey of all time, and the lamented Tommy's record proves it beyond a doubt.

The American polo team has qualified and will be made up as follows:
Rene La Montagne, No. 1; J. M.
Waterbury, captain, No. 2; Devereaux Milburn, No. 3; Lawrence Waterbury, back. The match against Lord Wimborne's British team will be played next week at Meadow-brook, L. I., with the Americans just now prime favorites. Harry Payne Whitney did not qualify, but his close friend, J. M. Waterbury, will make a capable captain.

Lake and Fiene were used in the Minneapolis line-up Wednesday, the former in right field and rescuer for Hogue, Fiene taking Joe's place the last two innings. Lake was the batting kid and Fiene cleared the sacks for three runs in the seventh with a three-ply stroke.

At the three running tracks Wednesday—Montreal, Piping Rock and Louisville—the "poor men's" horses gathered in the bulk of the kale. The millionaires had to be satisfied with the fruits of a few selling plater events. It was a day owned, too, by maiden jockeys, two of whom left the junior class with a pair of successful mounts each. In the speculation, under these conditions, something unusual prevailed, in that nearly all of the events the winners were at odds on in the books. A few long-shots got into the money at the short end of the purse.

MISTAKES OF LIFE.

The great mistakes of life as Judge Rentoul recently told the Bartholomew club of London, are:

To expect to set up your standard of right and wrong and expect everybody to conform to it.

To try to measure the enjoyment of others by your own.

To expect uniformity of opinion in this world.

To look for judgment and experience in youth.

To endeavor to mold the disposition of everybody alike.

Not to yield to unimportant trifles.

To look for perfection in our own actions.

To worry ourselves and others about what cannot be remedied.

Not to alleviate if we can all that needs alleviation.

Not to make allowances for the weaknesses of others.

To consider anything impossible simply because we ourselves happen to be able to perform it.

To believe only what our finite minds can grasp.

PRESIDENT TO GIVE DIPLOMAS.

Annapolis, June 4.—Annapolis is gay with decorations and filled with the customary large crowd for the "June Week" festivities at the Naval academy. Today the visitors witnessed infantry drills, flag competitions, torpedo and gun drills, and practical engineering exercises, the program concluding in the afternoon with a dress parade and presentation of colors. Tomorrow will be graduation day, when the members of the senior class will receive their diplomas from the hands of President Wilson.

REMEDIES AND PREVENTATIVES FOR FIGHTING THE ARMY WORM

Spraying, Poisoning, Ditching, and Others Measures Used Against the Pest Which is Causing Much Trouble in Morgan County.

Plowing, rolling, spraying and poisoning are among the remedies which have been tried for the eradication of the army worm pest, according to C. L. Marlatt, writing in Farmers' Bulletin, No. 132, a booklet issued by the United States department of agriculture, under the title, "The Principal Insect enemies of Growing Wheat."

Preventive measures are hard to apply on account of the worm's irregular appearance, points out the bulletin. In general, however, it is true that clean cultivation and the adoption of a regular system of a rotation of crops, in which grass lands are alternated every few years with cultivated fields, will keep this insect in check and probably prevent any unusual multiplication of it. It is important to burn tracks of tall grass in the fall and early winter, a practice which will kill many of the larvae and leave others to be killed by exposure.

An Aid Only.
The discovery of this insect is commonly made only when the advancing army of worms have already entered valuable fields of wheat or grain, and in the case of fields so invaded, nothing of a really practical nature can be done to prevent loss. Such fields may be sprinkled, by means of broadcast sprayers, with an arsenical solution, or rolled with a heavy roller when the ground is level, or pastured by a flock of sheep, which will destroy many of the worms by trampling. The arsenical application, however, will probably not save the crop, because the worms will eat enough of the crop to destroy it before they are themselves killed. The main effort under such conditions should be directed toward preventing the larvae from reaching other fields.

Poisoning the line of March.
One of the best remedies is the plowing of a furrow with its perpendicular side toward the field to be protected and the subsequent dragging of a log through the furrow to keep the earth friable and kill the worms which have accumulated in the ditch. Another method is to poison heavily with Paris green or London purple in solution a strip of pasture or field crop in advance of the traveling army of worms. In the same line is the distribution of quantities of bran, arsenic and sulphur sugar mixture across the line of march. The general destruction of the worms themselves by direct application is hardly practicable, and as a rule they can be left to the action of their natural parasites, which at this season are apt to be much in evidence.

Its Natural Enemies.
Freedom from the army worm for long periods is probably due to the many natural enemies which tend to keep them in check. These enemies of species of tachina flies, rather larger than the house fly, which deposit eggs all over the bodies of the larvae. From these eggs, maggots hatch, which penetrate the bodies of the worms, feeding upon their internal organs and eventually destroying them. So efficient is this fly as a rule, that on occasions of the unusual increase of the army worm, practically every worm is parasitized and the insect is so reduced in numbers that it will not reappear in large numbers for a number of years, usually not until at least twelve or fourteen years have passed by.

Description of the Worm.
The adult is a pale yellowish brown moth, with a white spot in the center of each forewing. Its minute white eggs are usually laid in numbers from two to three to twenty in strings beneath the sheaths of grass stems, a strong effort evidently being made by female moth to conceal her litter. The eggs hatch in from eight to ten days and the young caterpillars feed for a time in the folds of the leaf, but grow rapidly and soon consume entire leaves. Under ordinary circumstances they feed mainly at night or in damp, cloudy weather, remaining hidden during the bright days. They reach full growth in three to four weeks, attaining a length of 1 1/4 inch, burrow into the ground and transform into brown chrysalides. In this condition they remain in the summer an average of two weeks before hatching out into the perfect moth. Several generations are produced each season, two or three in the northern states and four or five or perhaps six in the southern states. The army worm as a rule passes the winter in the worm stage, although in the south it hibernates sometimes as a moth. This insect is present in greater or less numbers every year, but it is only as a result of a series of favorable years or exceptionally local conditions that it suddenly develops in large numbers. It is then forced to migrate by scarcity of food and goes from its breeding grounds in swarms, traveling and feeding by both day and night.

Into The Sunlight

By WALT MASON.

Oh, cut out the vain repining, cease thinking of dole and doom! Come out where the sun is shining, come out of the cave of gloom! Come out of your hole and borrow a package of joy from me, and say to your secret sorrow, "I've no longer use for thee!" For troubles, which are deluding, are timorous beasts, I say; they stick to the gent who's brooding, and flee from the gent who's gay. The gateways of Eldorado are open all o'er the earth; come out of the House of Shadows, and dwell in the House of Mirth. From Boston to far Bobaygeon the banners of gladness float; oh, grief is a rank contagion, and mirth is the antidote. And most of our woes would perish, or leave us, on sable wings, if only we didn't cherish and coddle the blame fool things. Long since would your woes have scampered away to their native fogs, but they have been fed and pampered like poodles or hairless dogs. And all of these facts should teach you it's wise to be bright and gay; come out where the breeze can reach you, and blow all your grief away.

YOUNG BLOOD PRAIRIE.

Gus Henry, Gus Seymour, John and Thomas Hopper and Edgar Chadoin were Jacksonville visitors Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Hart of Hart's Prairie visited Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Bert Neely.

Thursday afternoon our neighborhood was visited with a heavy wind storm that did considerable damage to fruit and stock. L. Silo of Thomas Oxley was blown to pieces and other damage was done.

We hear complaints along the Macoupin and Greene county lines of the army worm and farmers are organizing to fight it. Some are using the trench and destroying a good many that way. A big drove was headed in a northeasterly direction we suppose for the state capital to help out the Democratic administration.

The New Baby is World's Wonder

Every tiny infant makes life's perspective wider and brighter. And whatever there is to enhance its arrival and to ease and comfort the expectant mother should be given attention. Among the real helpful things is an external abdominal application known as "Mother's Friend." There is scarcely a community but what has its enthusiastic admirer of this splendid embrocation. It is so well thought of by women who know that most drug stores throughout the United States carry "Mother's Friend" as one of their staple and reliable remedies. It is applied to the abdominal muscles to relieve the strain on ligaments and tendons.

Those who have used it refer to the ease and comfort experienced during the period of expectancy; they particularly refer to the absence of nausea, often so prevalent as a result of the natural expansion. In a little book are described more fully the many reasons why "Mother's Friend" has been a friend indeed to women for more than two generations. This book was prepared not only to aid the inexperienced but to enable so many women to have at hand the timely hints, suggestions and helps in concise and neatly printed form for ready reference. It should be in all homes. "Mother's Friend" may be had of almost any druggist but if you fail to find it write us direct and also write for book to Bradford Regulator Co., 503 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

What is said herein of "Mother's Friend" is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

SECRETARY REDFIELD DISCUSSES BUSINESS

REFERS TO VARYING CONDITIONS ALL OVER COUNTRY.

Secretary of Commerce Intimates That Some Talk of Depression is For Purpose of Influencing Prices.—Talks of Crop Conditions.—Compares Conditions in Centers With Those in Districts Further Removed.

Raleigh, N. C., June 4.—Secretary of Commerce Redfield, in a speech here today before the Chamber of Commerce, discussed business conditions throughout the country. In part, he said:

Conditions Vary.

"If we would place the business atmosphere of the country on a sort of commercial weather map such as is used by the Weather Service we should find a curious condition. In the extreme southeast and southwest would be areas where the business barometer is high. All through the great central part of the country, where the bulk of our wheat is grown, would be another great area of fair weather and high pressure. Over the great cotton areas of the south would be no depression, not even unsettled conditions, but a normal looking for great agricultural favors expected to come. High barometer also prevails where automobiles are made in and about the Lake area. Over the northeastern states would be found a section of low barometers and marked depression. If the state of mind of the different parts of our country could be shaded in colors, the great body of the west would be white, while an area of dull gray would represent our northeastern states.

"One does not mean to deride a depressed state of mind in speaking of it as a psychological condition. The people that feel that way feel just as badly about it as if the condition were physical rather than psychological. The hope lies in the fact that the realities of the physical condition may so assert themselves ere long that the mental state will adjust itself to them and be relieved."

The World at Large.

After citing reports of depression in various foreign countries, Mr. Redfield continued:

"Few men would be so bold as to deny the world-wide conditions which have been suggested. This is not an age in which the nations are separated. Their commercial and industrial alliances on the one hand and competitions on the other are close. That which affects one adversely is reflected upon the others. It is the merest childishness to select one of them out from the others and deal with it as if its own internal procedure were the sole cause of the conditions found in it.

"In like manner any argument to the effect that the alleged attitude of our Government toward 'Big Business' is the cause of such depression as exists here is met by the fact that in Germany, where trusts and cartels are legalized and the government assists both, the depression is even more severe than it has been here.

"Any world-wide view, therefore, of the great intricate mass of interlocked transactions which we call 'the world's business' finds it in a state of depression almost everywhere, with ocean freights so low because of the shortage of international traffic on the sea that ship-owners are beginning to consider whether it is not cheaper to lay their vessels up than to run them at a material loss.

"A good deal has been made of the fact that our foreign business during the month of April shows a decrease in the exports of about 37 millions of dollars and an increase in the imports of about 27 1-2 millions of dollars, and that the merchandise transactions for that month show an apparent balance against us somewhat in excess of 11 millions of dollars, and gleeful conclusions as to the effects of the tariff law are drawn by high-speed thinkers from rather meager data. Looking plainly at the facts, we find them to be as follows:

Import Figures.

"During April the increase of imports, which we have seen amounted to about 27 1-2 million dollars, is found to be in the following items:

"Crude materials for use in our manufactures, 12 1-2 millions.
"Crude foodstuffs, over 4 million.
"Partly manufactured foodstuffs, nearly 7 millions.

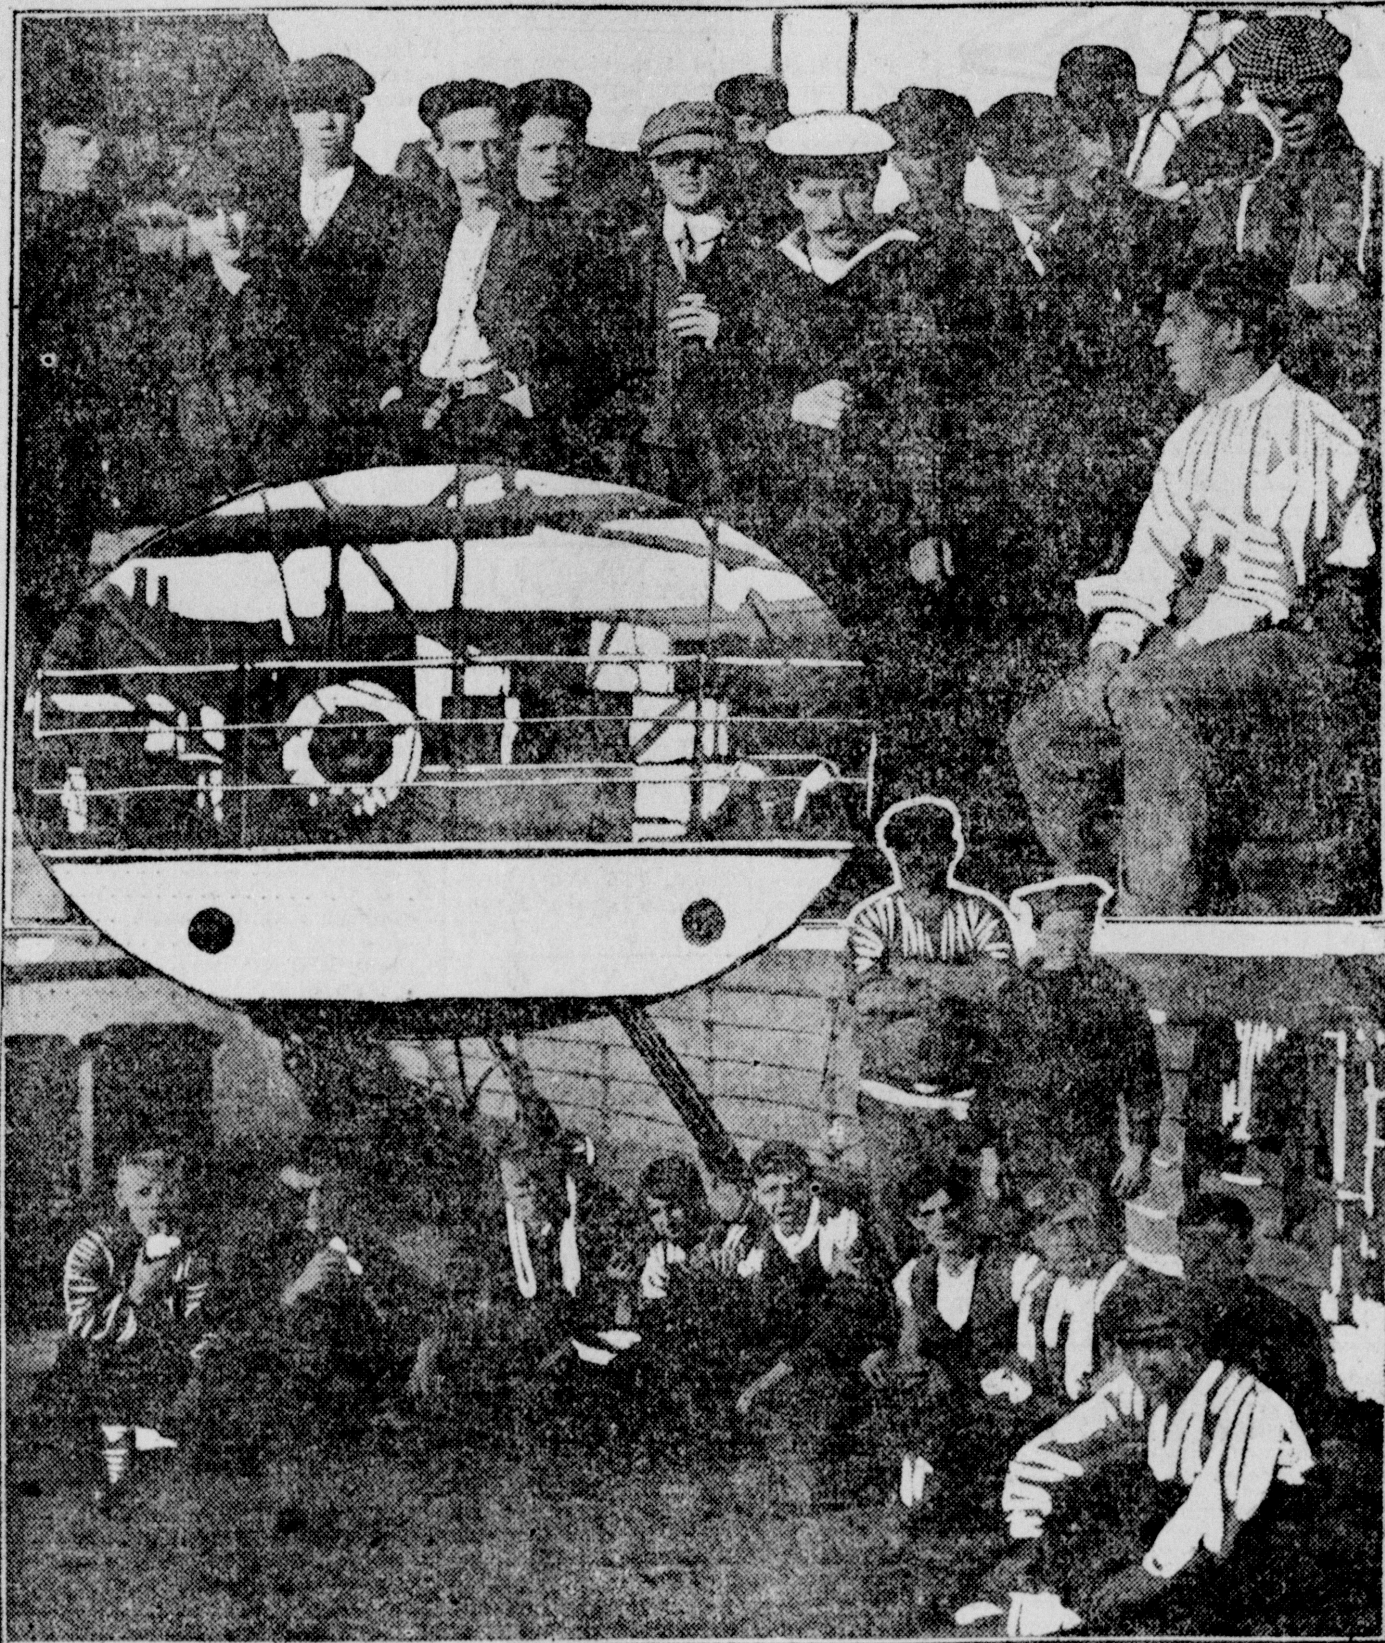

"Here is an aggregate of 23 1-2 millions out of a total increase of 27 1-2 millions, which is entirely in foods and materials which our manufacturers use. The balance is made up of an increase in finished manufactures of 5 millions, less a decrease in partly finished manufactures of 2 millions, showing a net increase in all imported manufactures of 3 million dollars, or about 5 per cent as compared with the month of April a year ago.

"Turning now to the exports for the month of April, in which there is a decrease of 37 millions for that month, we find 10 millions of it in crude materials for manufactures; 14 millions of it in food stuffs; over 5 millions in partly finished manufactures; making a total of 29 millions. Eight millions out of 37 millions is in fully finished manufactures, this last item showing the smallest ratio of decrease for the month of any of the great groups named. In other words, it is in the line of fully finished manufactures that we have held our proportion of business best.

Men Needed For Harvest.

"On the day when this was written the Secretary of Labor read in the cabinet in my presence a telegram from the labor authorities of Missouri stating that 30,000 men were needed in that state to help harvest the crops. Another telegram

Rescued Passengers and Crew of Empress of Ireland on Board the Alsatian and Coffins of the Victims.

Photos copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.

The lower picture shows some of the survivors of the Empress of Ireland, which was rammed by the collier Storstad in the St. Lawrence river off Father Point and sunk, eating aboard the Alsatian, which stopped at Rimouski for them. The upper picture shows some of the crew of the ill-fated ship aboard the Alsatian, the man in uniform being Quartermaster James Snuggins. The small picture shows how some of the coffins of the victims appeared on the rear deck of the Lady Grey. This funeral ship brought 188 bodies to Quebec out of the total approximating 1,000 victims.

from the Labor Commissioner of the state of Kansas calling for 40,000 men for that state for a like purpose was read, and at the previous session he had read a dispatch from the Labor Commissioner of Oklahoma stating that 15,000 men were needed there.

"It is true that a psychological depression is none the less a depression because it is psychological. We may therefore fairly look into other conditions to see whether the mental state that exists has a justification in solid facts.

"It is true, is it not, as one looks over the country, that all the conditions upon which sound business should rest exists in full force and vigor? Few will contend that merchants are overstocked. Rather is the reverse true. None are so rash as to say over speculation exists. Nay, on the contrary the brokers complain of lack of commissions. Money is not so scarce that banks refuse legitimate borrowers. The reverse is true. We have sent large sums abroad of late without cramping our financial resources. It comes to me from more than one quarter of the country that men who are pessimistic in speech are prosperous in pocket. Things are not tied up tight when New York registers more automobiles than ever before and when great industry is pushed to the full.

Getting Away From Centers.

"If you and I get away from the crowded centers of our middle and eastern states where mental mourning exists for conditions that can never return since the day of mastery is over and commerce must henceforth be a servant—if, I say, we get away from these centers into which the light is breaking, but which it has not yet fully illuminated, we shall find a different atmosphere. From far-off California and from Florida; from the fields of Oklahoma and Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska comes the glad cry of a harvest all but ripe for the sickle. There was no mourning in the orange groves of California when I saw them in March, and Florida utters no cry of distress in sending 23,000 carloads of her fruit to market.

"It is a small and pitiful thing that men should expect to reap political profit out of magnifying evils. However, the too willing howls of the apostles of evil are so obvious as well as so previous as to be on the whole more humorous than harmful. They make the judicious grieve but they bring no anxiety to the thoughtful."

GERMAN STATESMAN COMING.

Berlin, June 4.—Dr. Hermann Paasche, first deputy speaker of the German imperial parliament, departed today for the United States. The purpose of the trip is to fulfill a professional mission at the University of California, where he will deliver a series of political and sociological lectures. Dr. Paasche plans to spend the greater part of the summer on the Pacific coast, studying the economic and racial situation in that section.

PROCEDURE IN THE HENRY CASE NOT DETERMINED ON

Trial on Other Indictments Cannot Come Until a Number of Weeks Later—Stories of Possible Compromises Are Denied.

It is still a matter of conjecture as to what is to become of the other Henry cases which are on the docket of the Circuit Court. In conference with attorneys Thursday Judge Jones indicated that he must leave Jacksonville for work in other counties after this week and that he can return on June 22nd, for a few days only.

Subsequently work in other courts will keep Judge Jones busy so that it would probably not be possible for him to hear the Henry cases until the middle of the summer or later. He has declined to set any time for these cases until a hearing has been had on motion for a new trial already entered in the case finished last week.

By agreement it was decided Thursday that as soon as the Nunez case is finished that the following will be taken up in order: John A. Fletcher, formerly Eddie March, horse stealing; Lloyd Hare, burglary and larceny. When court convenes again on the 22nd the case of the Central Life Assurance Company against R. C. Washburn will be heard and then what other criminal cases remain unsettled will be called. For June 24th several cases have been set as follows: People vs. W. H. Williamson et al, quo warranto; J. C. Swain vs. L. J. Stewart et al, mandamus; James W. Warren vs. the Wabash Railroad.

There is still a great deal of interest as to what will be done in the Henry cases but what has taken place in the various conferences of attorneys has not been made public. One rumor has it that an effort has been made to have the state dismiss the two suits now pending, along with the agreement on the part of Henry's attorneys to make no effort for a new trial in the case in which a verdict was returned last Saturday. This rumor, however, is denied by attorneys for the state.

Another story is to the effect that Henry is willing to enter a plea to the charge of manslaughter in the other two cases which charged the killing of Everett and Howard Crain if the state is willing to accept this plea. However, attorneys for Henry forbid deny this story and say that their client is by no means ready to plead guilty and further that they expect to come to trial at this time of court and desire to have another judge secured if it is found impracticable for Judge Jones to so arrange his work in other counties as to be here.

The attorneys state also that it is their intention to push their effort to secure a new trial for Henry on the charge of killing Charles Ezard and they maintain that they have good grounds for securing such trial.

Today, on the bargain table, first floor, are 25 ladies' fine wool suits. Choice colors, all new models, none worth less than $16.50, and most of them up to $22.50, reduced now to $6.75.

RETURNS FROM KANSAS TRIP.
C. H. Story has returned from a land inspecting trip to the south part of Kansas. On the way home he found that the territory adjacent to Kansas City and for 40 or 50 miles out is badly infested with army worms and the Hessian fly and that drought has also brought great injury to crops. As a result many farmers are plowing up their wheat and planting other crops and in some cases the method following has been to mow off the wheat in order to save something which was useful for forage. Mr. Story and those with him found crop conditions near Wichita very satisfactory. The party included Mr. and Mrs. George Barnhardt, Jr. and Mrs. R. Y. Gibson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tendick.

HENRY LOUGHARY'S DAUGHTER IS FOUND DEAD THURSDAY

Four Months Old Child Dies Suddenly at Residence Three Miles West of Arcadia—Coroner Holds Inquest.

Laura May Loughary, the four months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Loughary who reside three miles west of Arcadia, was found dead about 8:45 o'clock Thursday morning at the family residence. Coroner George W. Wright was notified of the death and went to the home, where an inquest was held. Mrs. Loughary testified that the child awoke about 6 o'clock Thursday morning, and that after dressing the baby and giving it its breakfast she propped it up on the floor and went to the back kitchen to wash. A short time afterward her daughter, Naomi, came and told her that the baby was dead. Mrs. Loughary went to the room, picked the child up and after placing it on the bed ran to the residence of George Smith and asked Mrs. Smith to come over to the house. Mrs. Smith arrived at the home before his mother. She further testified that the baby was four months old June 6 and with the exception of having the cholera two or three times, had never been sick. Henry Loughary, father of the child, was not at home at the time of its death. Mr. Loughary, Naomi Loughary, sister of the deceased; George Smith and Mrs. Susan Ann Smith were the other witnesses examined and the jury returned a verdict that the baby came to its death by causes unknown to the jury. The jurors were: John Pate, foreman; William Jones, John Ginder, William Ater, Amos Shirkey and J. W. Woods, clerk.

Ransack Rooms in Residence of Drs. Dewey and Milligan—Attempts to Enter Home of Alden Brown.

At ten minutes until three this morning members of the police force were scouring the West End for the burglar who entered the home of Drs. Milligan and Dewey, 1123 West State street, and made an attempt to break into the residence of Alden Brown, 1122 West State, shortly afterward. News of the intruder was telephoned the police station shortly before two o'clock. The thief entered the doctors' residence through an open window on the west side of the house and went through the rooms downstairs but at last report had secured nothing of value. Mr. Brown was awakened immediately when the intruder began to tamper with a window on the west side of his house and the burglar was frightened away.

Night Captain Trabey and Officer Deatherage were soon on the scene. They were unable to find definite trace of the burglar but kept up the search for two hours or more. They were assisted by Night Watchman White of the School for the Deaf.

ALUMNI OF SCHOOL FOR BLIND TRANSACT BUSINESS THURSDAY

Establish Bureaus to Increase Trust Fund and to Aid Blind in Finding Employment—Banquet and Dance Are Held.

Sessions of the biennial convention of the alumni of the Illinois School for the Blind, were held at the institution Thursday morning, the entire time being devoted to the business of the organization. The new officers took up their work and several resolutions were passed. Although the meeting this year is one of the smallest ever held by the organization, the convention has been one of the most active and a great deal of enthusiasm has been shown. As there is no state organization for the blind in Illinois, the alumni organization feels the necessity of doing certain charitable work and two years ago at the meeting a trust fund was established, for the purpose of loaning the money to graduates and other blind persons. To increase this fund a new bureau was established at the meeting Thursday and L. W. Rodenberg was chosen as its chairman. The purpose of this bureau is to enlarge the trust fund by urging concert work and by other subscriptions and it is the hope to increase it from the present $200 to $1,000.

An Employment Exchange bureau was also established at the Thursday meeting for the purpose of aiding blind persons in securing employment and Miss Ethel Kimball of this city has been placed in charge of this department.

The following resolution, endorsing the work of Superintendent Woolston at the school, was adopted unanimously:

"Whereas the condition of the school in the matter of equipment, management and the well-being of the student body has been greatly improved under the present administration, and whereas the superintendent, Mr. R. W. Woolston, has demonstrated his interest in the work for the blind by the fact that he has employed more sightless people in the various departments of the school than has hitherto been done, and whereas this attitude on the part of the superintendent, with the kind support of the Board of Administration, inspires courage and confidence in blind people throughout the state, be it therefore resolved that we, the Alumni of the Illinois School for the Blind, met in its thirteenth biennial session, do hereby endorse and commend the present administration."

A resolution of regret at the death of Arthur Jewell, former secretary of the association who was a stereotypist at the school was passed. Mr. Jewell died December 6, 1912, since the last meeting of the association, and was one of the most active workers of the organization.

Thursday evening a banquet was served in the large dining hall at the school, H. L. Carpenter of Champaign, organizer of the alumni association, acting as toastmaster. After an excellent menu had been disposed of the following program of toasts was given:

"Work for the Blind in Illinois"—Superintendent Woolston. "Progress"—L. R. Penfield. "The Alumni of the Past"—C. Munson, the outgoing president. "The Alumni of the Future"—G. Gerlach, the new president. F. G. Meyers, instructor in violin at the school, gave a very witty and entertaining response to the toast, "Canes."

After the banquet a dance was enjoyed in the gymnasium.

CIVIL WAR IN THREE EYE LEAGUE IS AVERTED

Chicago, June 4.—Civil war in the Three Eye League was averted today, it was announced by President Tearney, when President Boyle of the Danville club consented to take his team to Springfield and play the game scheduled there for this afternoon. Because he believed that Tearney was not acting rapidly enough in investigating charges that the Decatur club was violating the salary limit, Boyle yesterday refused to take his men to the capital and play the game carded there yesterday. Next move in the matter, said the league head, would be infliction of a penalty on the Danville club for not playing yesterday and investigation of the Decatur salary charges.

Fines Danville Club $50.

Chicago, June 4.—President Tearney of the Three Eye League today fined the Danville club $50 for its failure to play at Springfield Wednesday as scheduled. The league constitution empowers the president to forfeit a club's franchise or impose a fine of $50 a day on any club which willfully refuses to fill its dates.
